DETAILED ACTION

Response to Arguments

1. In view of the Appeal Brief filed on October 20, 2004, PROSECUTION IS HEREBY REOPENED. A new ground of rejection is set forth below.

To avoid abandonment of the application, appellant must exercise one of the following two options:

(1) file a reply under 37 CFR 1.111 (if this Office action is non-final) or a reply under 37 CFR 1.113 (if this Office action is final); or,

(2) request reinstatement of the appeal.

If reinstatement of the appeal is requested, such request must be accompanied by a supplemental appeal brief, but no new amendments, affidavits (37 CFR 1.130, 1.131 or 1.132) or other evidence are permitted. See 37 CFR 1.193(b)(2).

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

2. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

3. Claims 1, 7-10, 16-19, 25-28, 34-40, 60, and 65 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Hsu (U.S. 5,907,604).

Hsu discloses a system and method for displaying an image in association with a caller ID identifier on the display of a telephone receiver having a processor, a memory storage device to store images that may have the caller ID identifier included, and user input device. When a caller places an incoming call, an image is displayed, such as an image of a person's face associated with caller ID identifier (which includes a telephone number), on the telephone receiver display, allowing the person receiving the call to identify the caller in advance of answering the call. The person receiving the call or conference call may also display each of the caller's images including telephone numbers, as well as, their own image including telephone number (Abstract, Figures 1-4, Column 1, line 66-Column 2, line 41, Column 3, line 1-Column 4, line 16, Column 5, line 22-Column 6, line 43, and Claims 1 and 8). Additionally, the telephone system may be operated in a similar manner when connected to a game system (Figure 5 and Column 5, lines 1-12).

Hsu seems to lack explicitly disclosing that the caller and the person placing the call are using the same system. What Hsu does disclose is that the caller may be utilizing a different videophone, or other telecommunications equipment to videophone (102). Furthermore, Hsu discloses the components and subsystems such can be distributed (and replicated) throughout the systems such as those shown in Figures 1, 4, and 5. Therefore, the examiner believes it would have been obvious at the time of Applicant's invention for the caller and the person answering the call to both utilize a telephone system as described in Hsu. One would be motivated to do so such that each person(s) utilizing the system can simultaneously view the image and telephone number of each person as shown (and described in Hsu) in figure 2 in order to jog the memory of each person as to who the caller is. Additionally, although Hsu discloses the telephone system may be connected and operated with regards to a game system, Hsu lacks explicitly disclosing activating a game mode to play a game between a first caller and a second caller. However, it would have been obvious at the time of Applicant's invention to implement this feature in Hsu.

Art Unit: 3713

One would be motivated to do so in order to make Hsu's telephone system operate in conjunction with a gaming system as disclosed making Hsu's system attractive because of the system's versatility for use in multimedia and entertainment capacities.

Double Patenting

4. The nonstatutory double patenting rejection is based on a judicially created doctrine grounded in public policy (a policy reflected in the statute) so as to prevent the unjustified or improper timewise extension of the "right to exclude" granted by a patent and to prevent possible harassment by multiple assignees. See In re Goodman, 11 F.3d 1046, 29 USPQ2d 2010 (Fed. Cir. 1993); In re Longi, 759 F.2d 887, 225 USPQ 645 (Fed. Cir. 1985); In re Van Ornum, 686 F.2d 937, 214 USPQ 761 (CCPA 1982); In re Vogel, 422 F.2d 438, 164 USPQ 619 (CCPA 1970); and, In re Thorington, 418 F.2d 528, 163 USPQ 644 (CCPA 1969).

A timely filed terminal disclaimer in compliance with 37 CFR 1.321(c) may be used to overcome an actual or provisional rejection based on a nonstatutory double patenting ground provided the conflicting application or patent is shown to be commonly owned with this application. See 37 CFR 1.130(b).

Effective January 1, 1994, a registered attorney or agent of record may sign a terminal disclaimer. A terminal disclaimer signed by the assignee must fully comply with 37 CFR 3.73(b).

5. Claims 1-40 and 60-67 are rejected under the judicially created doctrine of obviousness-type double patenting as being unpatentable over claims 1-29 of U.S. Patent No. 6,682,427.

Although the conflicting claims are not identical, they are not patentably distinct from each other because it would have been obvious at the time of applicant's invention to obtain telephone number information from a game player's telephone via a caller ID system to be displayed on the game screen. Obtaining caller ID information from a caller is notoriously well known as taught by Hsu.

Conclusion

6. The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure.

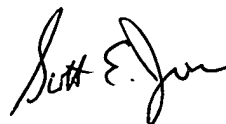

- August et al. '267 and Flood '613 disclose systems and methods for communication between communication terminals.
